Dear Colleagues;

3rd International Istanbul Breast Cancer Conference (Breastanbul) will be held in 11-13 October 2018 at Wyndham Grand Levent Convention Center in Istanbul, Turkey. During the conference more than 50 international faculty will be giving conferences, taking seats during panels, forums as well as discussions at four halls running parallel. There will be special sessions dedicated for survivorship and advocacy issues. On the first day of the event, preconference courses are scheduled on breast surgery, plastic & reconstructive surgery, breast pathology, breast imaging, radiation oncology, breast nursing and good clinical research. Case discussions on difficult cases will be done in two separate sessions as well with a broad spectrum of experienced specialists. Oral and poster research presentations will be accepted after peer review. You may log in for conference official website at <http://www.breastanbul.org> to read the detailed scientific programme and further details including registration terms.

We will be most happy to host those who will be attending the conference with traditional Turkish hospitality. We will try our best to provide you the highest level of scientific and social atmosphere whilst your stay in Istanbul next October in order to increase your professional network.

Best Regards,
